

LINKS Bar Partnership Proposal

Display our flyers in your bar. We will feature your bar's brand in the LINKS experience.

We are proposing a promotional trade: your bar provides visible space for LINKS flyers, and LINKS provides partner branding on your pool invitation and a location-aware banner on the site. It gives your regulars a simple way to enjoy sports picks together while keeping your bar part of the experience.

The exchange

Your bar provides

A napkin-holder insert, menu placement, or wall space where guests can see and scan the flyer.

Your approved logo, address, website, and an optional game-day offer.

A staff contact to keep the materials visible and information current.

LINKS provides

Co-branded flyer artwork and a partner-specific pool invitation QR code.

Your logo on that invitation page and in your matched partner banner on LINKS.

A banner with your bar's name, offer, and a link to your website or offer page.

Why it fits game day

Give regulars another reason to talk sports, compare picks, and follow the weekly standings together. Guests play on their own phones; the bar adds a shared activity without collecting paper pick sheets. The goal is stronger game-day engagement, not a promise of extra sales or attendance.

Proposed terms: Flyer space in exchange for partner promotion, with no cash advertising fee proposed. Printing costs and any pool-package costs are agreed separately before launch.

From your bar to their screen

01 Scan at your bar

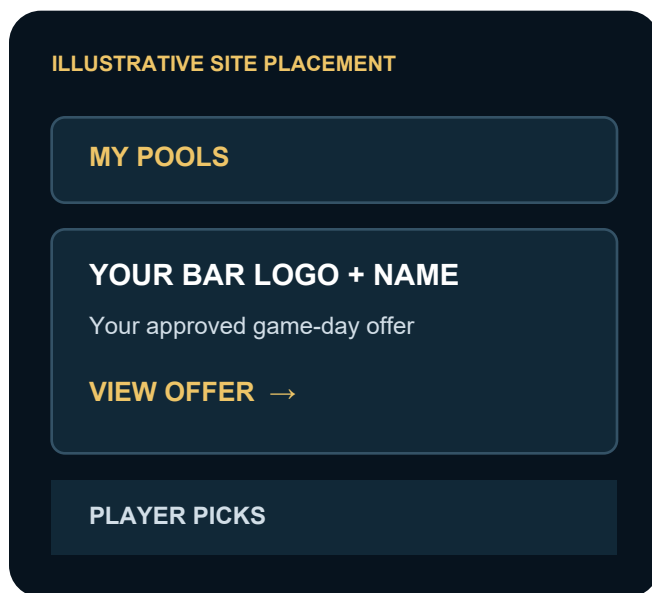

Your QR invitation opens a join page carrying your bar's logo. Guests create their own player name and password to enter the connected pool.

02 Play with the crew

NFL Pick'em and College Pick'em are the current games. Players choose winners, follow scores, and compare standings. Players join free.

03 See the right partner

With permission, LINKS checks the device's location when the site opens or returns to the foreground. A matched partner banner appears below My Pools and above the picks.

A different bar means a fresh check

The invitation does not permanently select an ad. When a player returns to LINKS at another partner bar, the old banner clears while location is checked again.

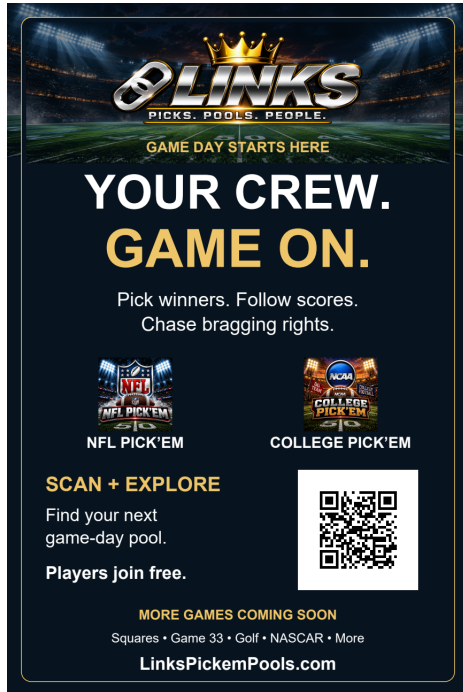

If nearby bars overlap or GPS is uncertain, the player chooses. Without location permission or a nearby match, LINKS shows its general banner.

Location is optional. Precise coordinates stay on the player's device. Indoor GPS cannot guarantee a building-level match. The banner is compact and dismissible, and it does not cover picks or navigation.

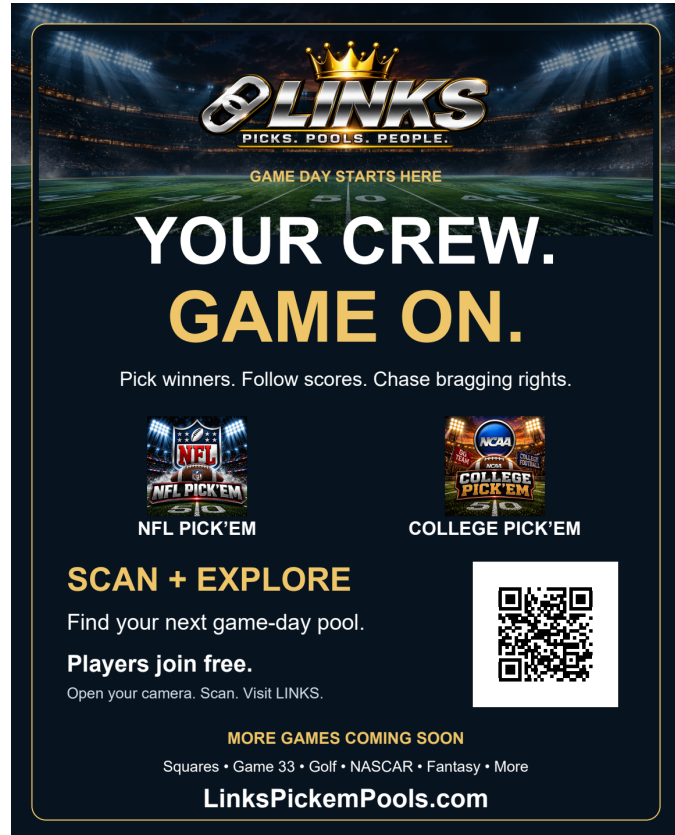

A ready made game day display

The flyers carry LINKS' gold-and-chrome game-day look. NFL and College Pick'em are available now. More games are planned, including Squares, Game 33, Survivor, Confidence, Golf, NASCAR, March Madness, Fantasy and Dynasty. Release dates will be announced.

Launch together

Choose a display location and confirm the holder's insert dimensions. Send your logo, address, website, and offer. We connect the partner pool, confirm the invitation, and approve the final artwork together. Start with a proposed 30-day placement trial, then review the fit with your staff.

Production note: Sample QR codes open LinksPickemPools.com. Current pool-invite QR codes expire after 7 days; confirm a refresh plan before printing a partner edition. Print at 100% / actual size. A holder insert is not a fold-up tent.
